

APPLICATION FORM FOR THE NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

First name:	Paul
Last name:	Stanciu
Country:	United Kingdom
Hospital:	West Hertfordshire Hospitals NHS Trust
Department:	Gynaecological Oncology
Current position:	Consultant Gynaecological Oncology Surgeon

My name is Paul Stanciu and I am a Consultant Gynaecological Oncologist in the United Kingdom. Even though I had most of my Gynaecological Oncology training in the UK, I followed the ESGO curriculum and got the European accreditation. I feel that the ESGO training is one of the best structured training programs and for me has been a wonderful journey full of accomplishments and rewards. I think all the European trainees who wish to pursue a career in Gynaecological Oncology should complete the ESGO curriculum and get accredited.

Is my opinion that one of the roles ENYGO should take is to be actively involved in improving the quality of training for young gynae-oncology fellows through professional development programs, such as Travelling Fellowships. The United Kingdom has one of the best medical systems in the world and young fellows will benefit from visiting this system throughout their training.

As an ENYGO representative for UK I hope to help delivering this goal to our younger colleagues.
